SINGLE RELEASE “I’m Coming Back”

I went to church regularly as a kid. Faith was just part of life growing up. But once I was out on my own, things changed. I didn't have time for church because I had two jobs: one to pay rent, and the other to spend what was left making bad choices.

For a while I thought I was enjoying life, doing things my own way and calling the shots. But like the line in the song says, “All I felt was emptiness inside.” No matter what I was doing, there was always something missing.

It took years for me to understand that even though I had walked away from Jesus, He never walked away from me. He was always there, waiting patiently for me to come back. Ready to comfort me and ready to guide me. The truth is, I was just too stubborn for a long time to give up control of my life and let Him lead.

Coming back to faith changed everything. His love erased the loneliness I had carried for so long, and His grace gave me a new purpose. Now I get the chance to use music and my work in His name to reach other people who might be walking the same road I once did.

It feels good to be back.
